DC CORRESPONDENT
HYDERABAD, DEC. 31

The state government has decided to construct ultra-modern sub-registrar office (SRO) buildings using corporate social responsibility (CSR) funds, aimed at improving public services and infrastructure.

Revenue minister Ponguleti Srinivas Reddy said that many SROs were operating from rented premises, lacking basic facilities. This initiative aims to alleviate these issues and provide more efficient and transparent services to the people.

In the first phase, the state government will focus on building new SROs in four key districts, including Hyderabad. Srinivas Reddy was speaking at a review meeting at the Secretariat on Tuesday, where he discussed the reorganisation and development plans for these offices. Malkajgiri, Sangareddy districts, and Khammam MP Ramasahayam Raghurama Reddy.

Revenue principal secretary Navin Mittal, Stamps and registration inspector-general Jyoti Budha Prakash, and senior officials participated.

The minister said that by building new, permanent offices, the government aims to enhance public access to services while providing a better working environment for officials.

The minister instructed collectors to identify suitable land sites for the construction of these offices. He said that people visiting the SROs would no longer need to wait for long hours under trees.

The state has 144 sub-registrar offices of which only 37 are housed in their own buildings. In the first phase, the new sub-registrar offices will be built at Sangareddy and Patancheru in Sangareddy district, Medchal, Quthbullapur, and Uppal in Medchal-Malkajgiri district, and Kandukur in Rangareddy district in upcoming Fourth City.

An integrated sub-registrar office will be constructed at the Telangana Academy of Land Information and Management (TALIM) office premises in Gachibowli encompassing the SROs of Gandipet and Serilingampally, and the Rangareddy district registrar office. Additionally, three sub-registrar offices in Hyderabad—located in Banjara Hills, SR Nagar, and Golconda - will be consolidated into a single integrated office at Shaikpet. These are expected to streamline services, improve supervision, and reduce corruption by making it easier to manage and monitor operations.

The new SROs will be designed to offer better facilities for the public, including spacious waiting halls, drinking water facilities, and ample parking. Each new office will cover a minimum area of three acres, with buildings ranging from 10,000 to 15,000 square feet.

The minister also highlighted the role of technology in improving services and reducing corruption in SROs. He instructed officials to make extensive use of digital tools to ensure transparency and efficiency. He directed officials to formulate an action plan.

The foundation stones for the new buildings are expected to be laid within a month. The integrated SRO at Gachibowli is expected to serve as a model for future offices.

ence along with official spokespersons Rani Rudrama and Sriramulu Yadav, Venkateshwarlu said that former sarpanchs have been facing a tough time due to non-clearance of their pending bills even after one year. He said the Congress claimed to waive ₹41,000-crore loans of farmers, but restricted it to just ₹22,000 crore. With the dues of the first and second installments, the state government has to pay ₹26,000 crore.

FIVE OFFENCES

● AG A. Sudarshan Reddy, representing the ACB submitted five accusations against BRS working president Rama Rao, who was municipal administration minister, in the Formula E race scam case.

● NO prior approval was taken to make payments, either from the Council of Ministers or the EC as the model code of conduct was in force during the second agreement.

● NO permission was secured from the finance department despite transferring around ₹54 crore from the public exchequer. The rule mandates that HMDA has to take permission for transactions for more than ₹10 crore.

● PAYMENTS were made to Formula E Operations Ltd (FEO) even before the second agreement took place.

● DURING the period of election code of conduct on October 30, 2023, the second agreement took place when the government agreeing to step in as sponsor, without prior approval of the Election Commission.

● FOREIGN exchange occurred during the transfer of money to FEO, a London-based company.

He brought to the notice of the court that the promoter had to submit a bank guarantee of around 200,000 pounds and no such thing happened. The promoter simply left after one season of car racing.

Defending the case of criminal breach of trust, the Advocate-General said that Supreme Court had declined to quash the charge of Section 409 of IPC against Chandrababu Naidu in Andhra Pradesh.

Senior counsel C.V. Mohan Reddy, appearing for principal secretary Dana Kishore, argued that Rama Rao, then the minister of municipal administration, had ordered disbursement of the HMDA amount as if it belonged to himself.

Even, his own money, senior counsel quipped, Rama Rao would have spent more cautiously. Siddharth Dave, Supreme Court senior counsel, while arguing for Rama Rao, said that the contents of the complaint lacked the ingredients to bring in Sections 405 and 409 of the IPC as there was no criminal breach of trust.

There was no reference to any specific type of offence involving the 'misappropriation of conversion of entrusted property by a person' as required for criminal breach of trust.

Senior counsel Dave further argued that the complainant was an IAS officer; who is a part of the state government.

He argued that the de facto complainant and ACB were arguing that procedural violations had taken place during the second agreement, but it cannot be said that every violation was of a criminal nature.

Senior counsel Dave submitted that the Supreme Court had delivered different opinions in the petitions filed challenging the Section 409 of IPC against Chandrababu Naidu.

HYDERABAD, DEC. 31

On the third day of the Arvind Memorial Seminar, organised by the Arvind Institute of Marxist Studies, intellectuals, activists, students and scholars resumed their discussions. The first hour resumed with a continuation of Anand Singh's paper, 'The Rise of Fascism in India', which had been presented the previous day.

The conversation focused on the rise of communalism in pre-independence India and the importance of correctly identifying and analysing the production relations and mode of production as capitalist.

Singh emphasised that

● SHIVANI KAUL, a political activist and president of the Delhi State Anganwadi Workers and Helpers Union, presented her paper 'Marxist Historiography of Fascism: A Critical Reassessment.'

this is important to formulate the correct proletarian strategy against fascism. He also underscored the need for a fierce struggle against economism, trade unionism, reformism and anarcho-syndicalism, which he said could hinder the revolutionary movement.

Then, Shivani Kaul, a political activist and president of the Delhi State Anganwadi Workers and Helpers Union, presented her paper 'Marxist Historiography of Fascism: A Critical Reassessment'. She highlighted the necessity of theoretically grasping the phenomenon of fascism to objectively understand its connections with existing politico-economic conditions.

Kaul's paper examined the fundamental issues in fascism's historiography, the evolution of the Comintern's understanding of fascism, and analysed the contributions of key Marxist thinkers, including Antonio Gramsci, Palmiro Togliatti, Clara Zetkin, Amadeo Bordiga, Leon Trotsky and Nicos Poulantzas.

The second half of the seminar featured researcher and German social activist Nicolai Messerschmidt's presentation on 'Postcolonial Fascism: An Analysis of Hindu Nationalism through Critical and Postcolonial Theory.'

Messerschmidt critically analysed Horkheimer's and the Frankfurt School's understanding of fascism, raising important questions about the rise of fascism in India. In the coming days, around half a dozen additional papers on various aspects of fascism will be presented. Activist Sunny Singh, prominent poet and activist Katayani and Jiselle Hannah from Australia Asia Worker Links (AAWL) are scheduled to present their works.

Pushpa producers get HC relief from arrest

Movie makers disown any role in Sandhya stampede

L. RAVICHANDER
HYDERABAD, DEC. 31

Justice K. Sujana of the Telangana High Court on Tuesday interdicted the police from arresting the producers of 'Pushpa 2'. The producers, Yalamanchili Ravi Shankar and Yerneni Naveen, moved the High Court stating inter alia that they could not be arrayed as accused in the incident that led to the death of a woman in the midst of the crowds at a special show of the film at Sandhya theatre at RTC crossroads here on December 4.

The petitioners contended that they head and run a film production and distribution company by the name Mythri Movie Makers which operates primarily in the Telugu film industry. The company has produced over 30 movies and distributed about 30 others, including 'Pushpa 2'. The petitioners contended that there was neither intent nor action that could or should be attributed to the makers of the film in the Sandhya theatre accident.

It was the case of the prosecution that complainant's wife M. Revati and son Sri Tej, who were seated in the lower balcony of the theatre hall, experienced severe difficulty in breathing due to the overcrowding and suffocation caused by the commotion. The two collapsed and the police intervened to rescue them and transported them to a hospital for treatment. Revati was declared dead at a hospital and Sri Tej remains in a critical condition.

Thereafter, the petitioners along with the Sandhya 70 mm theatre management and their staff, the lead actor Allu Arjun and his personal security were arrayed as accused in a crime registered by the Chikkadpally police station. Counsel for the petitioner argued that attributing responsibility to the petitioners for the incident, despite them having taken reasonable steps to notify the authorities, was untenable. The role of the petitioners was limited to producing the film, and no causal link existed between their actions and the tragic event in question.

HYDRAA razes illegal structures built in city

Drive targeted encroachments in lake's buffer zone, park

PRATHYUSH NALLELLA | DC
HYDERABAD, DEC 31

Hyderabad Disaster Response and Assets Monitoring and Protection Agency (HYDRAA) launched two major demolition operations on New Year's Eve, targeting illegal encroachments at Khajaguda and Sainikpuri.

The first operation was conducted at Bhagirathamma Lake, commonly known as Khajaguda Lake, in Nanakramguda. Several structures, including 10 sheds, were demolished for allegedly being built illegally on about 10 acres of land within the lake's Full Tank Level and buffer zones. However, residents affected by the demolition alleged unfair treatment and lack of sufficient notice.

Bunny, a local resident, claimed that the land had been under his family for generations. "The land is divided into three parts, belonging to three of my grandfathers, and we are the patta holders. We used to perform agriculture here, but we later rented out the property, and they constructed sheds to live in," he said.

Bunny further criticised the authorities, stating, "We were given notices at 4 pm yesterday, asking us to vacate within 24 hours. That itself is a small amount of time to begin with, but we were never even given those 24 hours. The demolition started at 08 am today, less than 16 hours later. How is this fair?"

HYDRAA commissioner A.V. Ranganath conducted a field inspection at the site last week, after locals lodged complaints about the illegal structures. A joint team, consisting of officials from the Serilingampally revenue department, Greater Hyderabad Municipal Corporation (GHMC) staff and Cyberabad police oversaw the demolitions.

HC ticks off HYDRAA chief over demolitions

VUJJINI VAMSHIDHAR | DC
HYDERABAD, DEC. 31

The High Court on Tuesday criticised the attitude of HYDRAA commissioner A.V. Ranganath and other staff for their "slanted decisions" in the demolition of structures and constructions. The court observed it seemed the HYDRAA commissioner was reluctant to follow rules and court orders, and had unilaterally issued demolition notices without following procedure.

"Earlier, he appeared before the court for violation of procedure in demolitions. But, the same mistakes are happening. If this continues, the court has to take its own steps," Justice K. Lakshman said and directed the agency's counsel Katika Ravinder Reddy to inform the commissioner.

Justice Lakshman was dealing with two lunch motion petitions filed by Mekala Anjaiah and two others, whose houses were set to be demolished on Tuesday by HYDRAA on the ground that their fencing and sheds were built on the full tank level and buffer zone of Bhagirathamma lake at Khajaguda.

HYDRAA officials had issued them notices on December 30, directing them to vacate the premises within 24 hours.

During the hearing, Justice Lakshman questioned the commissioner on how HYDRAA had fixed a time period of 24 hours, how the agency had concluded that the petitioner's land fell in FTL or buffer zone of the lake and asked for the final notification of the FTL. The court inquired about the evidence to prove that the structures were in the FTL. The judge asked whether or not the commissioner was aware of the procedure of issuing notice and giving an opportunity to the other side to submit their contentions and produce documents in support.

Cautioning HYDRAA to strictly adhere to procedure, the court set aside the notices and directed the agency to follow due procedure.

HYDRAA's encroachment removal drive. Chandrashekar, a Defence Colony resident, said, "The community needs the park. They raised tall compound walls to not let anyone see inside, and slowly began raising single room houses inside. If HYDRAA didn't intervene, the land would have been usurped."

LOKAYUKTA FOR CASE AGAINST SWINDLERS

DC CORRESPONDENT
KARIMNAGAR, DEC. 31

The Telangana Lokayukta, Justice C. V. Ramulu, on Tuesday directed district collector to register criminal cases against those involved in misappropriation of funds in Buggaram gram panchayat in Jagtial district. The Lokayukta also directed the collector for a personal investigation into the matter and to take appropriate action against the guilty as early as possible.

Telangana Jana Samithi district unit president Chukka Ganga Reddy, along with villagers had repeatedly filed complaints during the BRS government regarding large-scale misuse of funds in Buggaram GP limits including creation of fake and illegal MBs, forged records and fake bills. After reviewing the complaint, evidence and clarifications by district panchayat officials, Justice Ramulu conducted an investigation and issued an order. A copy of the order was received by Ganga Reddy through a registered post on Tuesday.

Ganga Reddy alleged that despite multiple inquiries into misuse of funds, no action was taken against officials who were involved in wrongdoing. The officials abused powers, disregarded laws and the district collector's orders.

He filed a complaint on September 22 with the Telangana Lokayukta, presenting strong evidence against the officials. After going through the case, the Lokayukta issued orders for personal investigation and filing of criminal cases against the accused, he added.

NEWS IN BRIEF

Residents for immediate elections for Cantt Board

RACHEL DAMMALA | DC
HYDERABAD, DEC. 31

The prolonged delay in holding Secunderabad Cantonment Board (SCB) elections, last conducted in January 2015, has sparked outrage among residents, who have accused the authorities of "undermining their democratic rights."

On Tuesday, members of the Joint Action Committee (JAC), led by activist Telukunta Satish Gupta, submitted a formal representation to the Cantonment Board president Brigadier N.V. Nijundeshwara, MLA Sriganesh Narayanan and SCB CEO Madhukar Naik, demanding immediate action to schedule the long-overdue elections.

"This is a blatant violation of constitutional provisions. The SCB elections should be held once in every five years. Residents of the cantonment have been deprived of their representation for nearly a decade, which has seriously hampered development and accountability," Gupta told Deccan Chronicle.

The JAC spoke about how the absence of elected representatives has left residents struggling to address civic issues and push for developmental projects. Several JAC members expressed frustration at the Centre's inaction, which they claim has created a governance vacuum. "How can any progress happen without elected representatives? Development needs accountability and accountability comes from democracy," added another resident, calling on the Centre to intervene.

Doctor seeks recovery of property

HYDERABAD, DEC. 31

The Telangana High Court will hear a writ petition challenging the GHMC's alleged action of dispossessing a government doctor of property by constructing a community hall in 2005. Justice K. Lakshman was hearing a plea filed by Dr. Birjisunnisa, who argued that the GHMC's action in taking over her property in Turabnagar, Amberpet, were illegal. The petitioner sought the restoration of 215 square yards of land and the consideration of a representation made in July 2018. The judge questioned whether the petitioner could pursue the claim under Article 226, which allows writ jurisdiction for the enforcement of fundamental and constitutional rights. The court noted that property disputes were better suited for civil courts. The petitioner requested more time to present relevant judgments. The case has been adjourned for further hearing on Tuesday.

HC REJECTS PLEA OF BAR WITHOUT LICENCE

Justice B. Vijayesh Reddy dismissed a writ petition filed by Sri Lakshmi Venkateshwara Enterprises, seeking permission to continue operations of Le Vantage Café and Bar amid a dispute over the renewal of its 2B licence. The writ plea alleged that officials from the excise department sealed the café on October 4, 2024, without notice, panchanama, or acknowledgment, which the petitioner claimed violated Rule 9A of the Telangana Excise (Grant of Licence of Selling by Bar and Conditions of Licence) Rules, 2005. The assistant government pleader argued that the petitioner's licence had expired and that despite multiple notices for renewal were not submitted. The petitioner's lease had expired, and the landlord had not consented to the café's operation. While the judge noted the lack of a showcase notice

FURNITURE SUPPLIER SEEKS REIMBURSEMENT

Justice T. Vinod Kumar of the Telangana High Court deferred the hearing of a plea challenging the alleged withholding of ₹64.14 lakh due for services rendered during the 2021 elections. The writ petition was filed by Kamtikar Sainath, the proprietor of Bajrang Suppliers. The petitioner claimed that a work order was issued by the returning officer and the revenue divisional officer of Huzurabad, and ₹64.14,935 was due for the services provided. Despite several representations to the state, the petitioner argued, no action had been taken. In response, the state contended that only approximately ₹25 lakh was found to be due and payable to the petitioner. Authorities stated that payment procedures had been initiated, with a token raised in October 2024. Previously, the court was assured that the admitted amount would be paid by the end of 2024. However, on Tuesday, the government requested 10 more days to remit the admitted due. The judge has posted the matter for hearing on January 9.

Cabinet to take call on Rythu Bharosa

The Cabinet will review this issue, along with plans for implementing reservations in various government sectors.

A major policy shift expected in the Cabinet meeting is the proposed introduction of the Rythu Bharosa scheme, which would replace the existing Rythu Bandhu.

Under Rythu Bandhu, farmers received ₹10,000 per acre per year, while Rythu Bharosa proposes to increase the amount to ₹15,000 per acre annually.

Additionally, new eligibility norms are set to be finalised, which may include limiting the benefit to agricultural land under active cultivation, excluding non-farm land, and setting a ceiling on land holdings between 5 and 10 acres.

The government also plans to extend Rythu Bharosa of ₹12,000 per year to agricultural labourers and tenant farmers, a group previously excluded from the Rythu Bandhu scheme.

The Cabinet will also discuss the formation of a Yadagirigutta Temple Trust Board modelled after the Tirumala Tirupati Devasthanam (TTD), a step seen as crucial in better managing the temple's resources and operations.

The Cabinet will decide on the structure and functions of this new trust board.

Further, there are plans to issue new ration cards after Sankranti in January.

The government is considering raising the annual family income threshold for eligibility, a decision that will be finalised during the Cabinet meeting.

Chronicle

1 JANUARY 2025

India, most of all, needs harmony in New Year

As the world leaves behind a parlous 2024 there is no end in sight yet of two major wars in Ukraine and around the Gaza Strip and civil wars are raging in Somalia, Haiti, Myanmar and many others, besides an uprising in Bangladesh, with no sign of the issues being resolved. The eternal optimists can, however, hope that the chronological convenience of turning the Gregorian calendar to January 2025 will bring some sense to those involved that violence leads to nothing except that it only begets more violence. Making 2024 such a tumultuous year beyond the wars and conflicts was the fact that two billion people, around a quarter of the world's population, went to polling booths to register their choice. Their disenchantment with the status quo saw many ruling parties come tumbling down as in the UK and the United States and many other countries where the desire for change dominated. The BJP led-NDA survived the global storm that felled political parties, but with reduced numbers and without a majority of its own. That brought India back to a time of coalitions with a chastened Prime Minister having to bow to alliance dharma and make mellow her party's stance on many issues. The year post-polls, however, saw more political wrangling with harmony distinctly lacking as the Winter Session of Parliament was ruled by a stalemate between a protesting Opposition and a government that saw an opportunity in recalling the past with its own narratives on historical figures as the debate on the Constitution in its platinum jubilee year became an exception to the regular bedlam in the House.

Talking of the economy, there is much to do as the rulers could not have missed the signs of a dip in the last couple of quarters in the world's fastest growing large one

Singh, harmony seems a concept too far for a fractured polity in a pluralist society. Apart from the renowned economist who became an accidental PM, the country saw many a luminary of the arts like Shyam Benegal and a gem of a progressive titan of industry in Ratan Tata depart. The world of sport remained extremely competitive and there too it was individuals like the chess champions D. Gukesh and Koneru Humpy, the Olympic twin bronze medallist Manu Bhaker and the peerless bowler Jasprit Bumrah who shone. As far as team games went, it wasn't the best of years even if Team India did break a long ICC trophy drought by winning the T20 World Cup.

The ineffectual performances in team sports may be taken to represent Indians' difficulties in staying together amicably. Togetherness has goodness in it, so goes the saying, and it might mean something as the world prepares for what could be a turbulent Trump year with his promised tariff wars adding another dimension to the suffering caused by economic downturns and climate change catastrophes.

Talking of the economy, there is much to do as the rulers could not have missed the signs of a dip in the last couple of quarters in the world's fastest growing large one. Even bickering Indians must see a need for growth for which consumption must rise too. All is not well is the message that 2024 conveyed. Hopefully, the New Year will be better for all.

Talk to farmers, find solution

With the agitating farmers communicating to the Supreme Court that their leader Jagjit Singh Dallewal will call off his indefinite hunger strike if the Union government invited them to a discussion on their long-pending agenda, it is now up to the government to take the initiative for talks and pave the way towards ending a year-long agitation.

The government should not ideally have a quarrel with the farmers' demands which include a legal guarantee for minimum support price for crops, debt relief and withdrawal of cases lodged against farmers during the earlier edition of the agitation. In December 2021, the then NDA government had actually assured them that steps would be taken towards their fulfilment after repealing the three controversial farm laws. From Prime Minister Narendra Modi who promised to double farmer income to the finance minister who listed various measures for farmers in the annual Budget, the theme of farmer welfare has never gone missing from the government's agenda.

It is a shame, therefore, that the farmers have been agitating on the Punjab-Haryana border for almost a year over issues that are in fact critical to their survival. The government announces MSP ahead of every crop season but at present is not under an obligation to do so. The farmers argue that a legal framework on MSP would alleviate their fears and introduce a sense of surety. The demand for debt relief should cost the exchequer but history has shown that such pro-farmer measures will introduce more vibrancy in the rural economy which will have a cascading effect on other sectors.

It is a paradox that the major mediator in this agitation is the Supreme Court of India while the decision should ideally be the result of a direct conversation between the farmers and the government. The farmers' group has now offered the government an opportunity to play its legitimate role and it must honour this trust.

Will a year of global wars set off more 2025 churn?

Sunanda K.
Datta-Ray

Reflections

The world was at war. The world was on the move. With crooks and common everywhere, Indians never knew when the telephone rang whether it was a genuine caller or a trickster threatening to disconnect the line or freeze your bank account unless paid off.

Committed to "Make America Great Again", the century's comeback kid was on the prowl. US President-elect Donald Trump threatened India with a trade war, and Panama with seizure of the Canal. Controlling Greenland was an "absolute necessity", he declared.

Canada and Mexico should become US states if they want to continue enjoying lavish subsidies. Mr Trump advised Ukrainian President Volodymyr Zelenskyy to make a deal with Russia's President Vladimir Putin and promised to pardon Republican rioters who stormed the US Capitol on January 6, 2021, in an attempt to prevent US President Joe Biden being sworn in. He warned of sweeping changes in immigration rules, massive deportations and the end of the constitutionally guaranteed birthright citizenship in America.

Prime Minister Narendra Modi reiterated that he had told Mr Putin both "directly and publicly" that "this is not an era of war". Mr Putin attacked fresh targets in Ukraine. Having pulverised Gaza, Israel began bombing Syria. The Houthi rebels targeting Tel Aviv didn't get Mr Modi's message either. Fighting continued in Sudan, Yemen and Myanmar. Dhaka demanded that India hand over former Prime Minister Sheikh Hasina Wajed to Bangladesh justice. The International Criminal Court sought the arrest of Israeli Prime Minister Benjamin Netanyahu as well as some Hamas leaders.

Amidst trade and tribal wars, civil and uncivil wars, cyber wars, wars to unite and to secede, India often seemed to be at war with Indians. Hostilities erupted in Parliament, the Jawaharlal Nehru University campus and Chhattisgarh's jungles. Jammu and Kashmir was split and demoted. Manipur ran with blood. Ominous rumbles from distant Australia, the United States, and, most persistently, Canada, suggested that India was waging its domestic wars on foreign soil.

Britain's National Investigation Agency arrested Inderpal Singh Gaba, claiming the Sikh had vandalised India's flag. In contrast to the stalemate in investigating the murder of Hardeep Singh Nijjar, allegedly a Khalistan Tiger Force militant, the UK NIA offered to share the Gaba case file with India.

Hindus challenged the Places of Worship (Special Provisions) Act, 1991, right, left and centre. Muslims would soon be the majority, predicted Kolkata's mayor, Firhad Hakim. Mohan Bhagwat, the Rashtriya Swayamsevak Sangh chief, urged Hindus to be more inclusive. Mr Modi upheld his "One Nation, One Election" law as the formula for unity.

The rupee fell to its lowest ever against the almighty dollar. The United States narrowly escaped a total government shutdown. Rich Indians didn't stop getting richer. As wealth inequality widened with one per cent of Indians owning 58 per cent of the nation's wealth, while the richest 10 per cent owned 80 per cent, the former Reserve Bank governor, Raghuram Rajan, dismissed as a "pie in the sky" a proposal by Thomas Piketty, the French author of Capital in the Twenty-first Century, to levy an annual two per cent wealth tax on individuals with assets exceeding $1.8 million (Rs 100 million) and a 35 per cent inheritance tax on properties of similar value. The "wealthy always have a way around it (taxes)", he said. Moreover, taxing penalises success: India needs to optimise resource allocation.

India protested when a now-deleted Facebook post by a key aide of Nobel laureate Muhammad Yunus, chief adviser to the Bangladesh government, demanded that it should recognise the uprising that forced Sheikh Hasina to flee to India. She and Bashar al-Assad, Syria's accidental ruler who was hailed as "the hope of the masses", when his older brother died in a car crash, are in similar boats. Lurking in the Kremlin, Mr Assad must be as much of an embarrassment for Mr Putin as Sheikh Hasina probably is for Mr Modi. A triumphant homecoming is unlikely for either. Even if Bangladesh holds elections, her Awami League may not be allowed to participate.

Mr Assad's alleged misdeeds — repression, prison brutality, chemical warfare — were trumpeted worldwide by US publicists but the crimes that Sheikh Hasina apparently committed or condoned during two stints in office were unknown until the five-member commission of inquiry under a retired Supreme Court judge which Mr Yunus had appointed released its interim report, "Unfolding the Truth". Reporting more than 3,500 enforced disappearances, it hinted at some Indian collusion.

The report charged several high-ranking former military and police officers in Sheikh Hasina's entourage with authoritarianism, human rights abuse, rampant corruption, mass murder and crimes against humanity. The ousted regime denied all allegations. So did Sheikh Hasina's niece, Tulip Siddiq, a Labour member of Britain's Parliament and economic secretary to the Treasury, whose ministerial duties include tackling financial corruption. Backing her rejection of the charge of embezzling billions of dollars during Bangladesh's 2013 purchase of a Russian nuclear power plant, Britain's Prime Minister, Sir Keir Starmer, expressed his full confidence in Ms Siddiq who continues to handle anti-corruption issues.

Donald Trump isn't the only world leader anxious to pull up the drawbridge against the influx of (mainly Asian) immigrants. Anti-foreigner sentiment is hardening in Germany, where elections are due in February, after the Magdeburg tragedy when a Saudi-born psychiatrist who has lived in Germany for nearly two decades mowed down Christmas market shoppers, killing five persons, including a toddler, and injuring over 200 others. Denmark, Finland, Iceland, Norway and Sweden agreed to strengthen cooperation in deporting illegal migrants.

Although the Starmer government cancelled its predecessor's plot to send immigrants to Rwanda for vetting, British public opinion was far from happy. A Facebook post complained that over 12 million immigrants have entered Britain since 1997, 80 per cent of whom are totally dependent on welfare. Their upkeep adds up to nearly "a staggering" £500 billion.

Britain's Prince Andrew hurtled from one scandal to another when MI5 identified a friend of his as a Chinese spy and banished him from the UK. It was reported the prince might move to an opulent palace in West Asia. As Britain's former trade envoy and patron of the Middle East Association, he knows the region well.

As Mr Biden commuted the sentences of 37 out of 40 prisoners on death row, Mr Trump vowed to execute "rapists, murderers, and monsters". The world is waiting now to see where he will strike next in the holy jubilee year that Pope Francis launched on Christmas Eve while Hindu sadhus squabbled over who owns India.

The Assembly passing a unanimous resolution seeking the Bharat Ratna for the late former prime minister Dr Manmohan Singh shows how much the people appreciated his work.

Dr Singh was an excellent finance minister and a great human being. As Prime Minister, his tenure was marked by corruption. Certain decisions were not in the nation's best interest. The Bharat Ratna for him may not be appropriate.

As unfilled posts add to suspense, decoding Delhi's latest babu jigsaw

The recent secretary-level reshuffle in New Delhi left some scratching their heads yet again. Like an unsolvable jigsaw puzzle, the logic behind these moves remains a closely guarded secret. But, for now, let's try to decode at least a few of these postings.

First up is the department of personnel and training (DoPT), which handles the government's personnel affairs. For the third time in a year, the DoPT has a new secretary, with Rachna Shah, a 1991 Kerala cadre officer stepping in after a prolonged vacancy. Notably, the baton remains with a woman officer, continuing a trend. Ms Shah replaces Radha S. Chauhan, while Manisha Saxena recently took over as establishment officer, and Kavita Singh handles crucial ACC matters in the Cabinet secretariat. Coincidence? Hardly, say sources. The system seems designed to prevent leaks and surprises. If all goes smoothly, Ms Shah may stay till her retirement in November 2027, promising some much-needed stability at the DoPT.

Over at the department of revenue, the reshuffle sparked buzz with 1992 batch IAS officer Arunish Chawla's appointment. Taking over from Sanjay Malhotra, now RBI governor, Mr Chawla faces the Herculean task of managing key portfolios like CBDT, CBIC, and the Enforcement Directorate (ED). His stint in pharmaceuticals seems to have been a brief stopover, and he's now moved to the high-stakes North Block while still holding charge of the ministry of culture. Speaking of culture, it's been on an upward trajectory, gaining significant prominence. How Mr Chawla balances these dual responsibilities will be worth watching.

As for the ministry of culture, the suspense over who will fill Mr Chawla's shoes adds an extra layer of intrigue. With the Prime Minister's Office playing its cards close to the chest, it's a game of wait-and-watch.

In the end, these reshuffles are a masterclass in controlled chaos. For us, mere mortals, deciphering the method in this madness remains an engaging, if baffling, pastime.

WHY DID PROMISING DARBHANGA COP OFFER HER RESIGNATION?

Bureaucracy often thrives on opacity, but every so often, a story comes along that is intriguing enough to make us wonder what's happening behind the scenes. The case of Kamya Misra, a promising young IPS officer from the 2019 batch, is one such mystery.

Ms Misra, who recently resigned from her post as the rural superintendent of police (SP) in Darbhanga, citing personal reasons, found her resignation unceremoniously rejected by the Bihar government. Instead, she's been granted 180 days of leave starting November 2024 and is currently cooling her heels at the Bihar police headquarters, awaiting a fresh posting. Reshuffles are routine in police services, but her case feels anything but ordinary.

Her husband, Avdhesh Saroj Dixit, also from the 2019 batch, is currently the SP of Gopalganj, having previously served as the City SP in Muzaffarpur. The duo, who married in 2021, is highly regarded in bureaucratic circles. So why would an officer like Ms Misra, respected and reportedly effective, tender her resignation? And why would the government so pointedly refuse to let her go?

The timing adds an extra layer of intrigue. Could this be linked to Bihar's political climate, with state elections potentially on the horizon? Ms Misra's tenure in Darbhanga and her decision to step away could have raised eyebrows, but the government's move to sideline her while keeping her within the system only raises more questions. Is there a larger BJP-Nitish Kumar political calculus at play here? Or does this point to internal administrative dynamics that we can only guess at? Whatever the reason, one thing is clear — as the political temperature in the state rises, stories like this remind us of the fine balance between governance and politics in India's bureaucracy. For now, though, Kamya Misra's 180-day hiatus leaves us wondering: What's next in this unfolding drama?

CUT THE CLUTTER: CABINET SECY PUSHES FOR FAST GOVERNANCE

Continuing from where he left off last month,

Cabinet Secretary T.V. Somanathan has called out ministries for ignoring a two-year-old directive to limit decision-making to four layers. In a no-nonsense letter, he pointed out that this non-compliance is causing unnecessary delays, undermining the government's push for reforms. He is clearly a man on a mission.

The directive aims to streamline processes by creating a leaner, flatter structure. Mr Somanathan wants special, additional, and joint secretaries to operate as independent bureau heads, cutting out extra layers that slow things down. His message was clear: "De-layering" isn't just a buzzword; it's about speeding up decisions and improving efficiency.

He also reminded secretaries to personally ensure these changes are implemented, stressing that responsive, transparent governance depends on it.

Adding to this, the Cabinet secretary chimed in with a reminder to keep communication short and sweet. He asked secretaries to send concise monthly updates — just one or two pages — highlighting key issues and delays. The message? Less bureaucracy, more action.

Love them, hate them, ignore them at national peril, is the babu guarantee and Dilip's belief. Share significant babu escapades dilipcherian@hotmail.com.
